

THE HEIST

By Robbie S.

It was seven years ago when Charles stole a truck full of cigarettes and delivered it to his new brother in law Carlos, he gave him a profit of ten thousand dollars but Carlos has planning a heist against Finland for killing his family.

It was an average day for Charles and his partner in crime, Carlos. Charles had his good luck poncho and Carlos had been plotting against Finland for killing his family but Carlos came from a long line of terrorists he had to have grenades and his AK-47. It was time. They rushed the border like there was a tacos sale on the other side. They were yelping at the top of there lungs. They charged at the Finnish embassy grenades were flying everywhere bullet fragments slicing up my skin like fish being scaled we rushed the vault stashing thousands upon thousands to pay for their families gambling problems.

As I wake up in a boat with hundreds of Mexicans going back to our home land. We were going the Mexico's maximum security prison on a life sentence with no parole it was the prison with the men who was committed the most unthinkable crime to man. When we arrived it was lunch time, we went to the mess hall there was missing parts in the tables that was been made into knives then a brawl broke out three men died and twenty others were injured we all got lock down for a week with a shovel my cell mate made. We started digging a hole from the time for lock down the next night we done it again we finally dug out of this hell hole with our thousand dollars the bros gave the money to the people of the village the people exclaimed, "Thank you Charles and Carlos the city got out for debt for now". Later that day they were assassinated but they did a good job for the city.
